32 East 69 St (Mad-Park)
11am-6pm
Prolific, prescient and powerfully original yet under-recognized in her lifetime, Cathy Joseowitz (1956 – 2014) produced a diverse body of work that transcends hierarchies of medium and genre. The artist's inaugural solo exhibition with Hauser & Wirth features a selection of remarkable works from across her singular and ambitious career. GALLERY TALK: 11am: A guided tour through the exhibition. Visitors should gather on the first floor of the gallery and wait for instructions. Pictures will be allowed, although no flash photography will be permitted.

23 Helwaser Gallery

833 Madison Ave, 3Fl (69-70)
11am-5:30pm
French painter Veronique Cauchefer reveals the layered realms of the domestic interior. Exploring emotions inherent in physical space, one's inner sanctum becomes directly analogous to the interiority of self: coursing with latent undercurrents of protective caution, imagination, and the surreal.

24 Henrique Faria

35 East 67 St (Mad-Park)
11am-6pm
Gerd Leufert: Imaginary Spaces – Leufert's second solo show at the gallery, spanning his multifaceted career as an artist and designer in Venezuela to coincide with the first major US museum retrospective since 2005 of Gego, his life partner, at the Guggenheim. The exhibition brings together a selection of drawings, paintings, sculptures and an installation shown for the first time in the US.

25 Hirschl & Adler Modern

41 East 57 St, 9FI (Mad-Park)
11am-5pm

As COVID tightened its grip, María Elena González, Chair of the Sculpture Department at the San Francisco Art Institute, sat alone in the school's deserted studios trying to process an announcement that the institution would soon close its doors forever. Surrounded by abandoned workspaces filled with objects discarded by students forced to vacate the premises, González did what any true maker would do to assuage her mounting fear. The pieces borne in that uncertainty form the basis of this exhibition called Riven.

26 Howard Greenberg Gallery

41 East 57 St, Ste 801 (Mad-Park)
11am-5pm

This exhibition features photographic works that combine Bruno V. Roels' interest in language, modern art, and semiotics. Known for exploring the multiplicity of the iconic palm tree in photographic repetition and variation, many of his new works incorporate hand painted letters and are manually edited by drawing directly on his prints.

27 Hubert Gallery

16 East 79 St, 2FI (Mad-Fifth)
11am-6pm

Geoffrey Johnson: Contemporary Impressionist paintings of New York. Presenting new works featuring the artist's unique ability to capture the mood and feeling of NYC. Using a limited palette, he paints figures en masse juxtaposed against the urban landscape. Reviewers note his pieces for their elegant sense of melancholy and timelessness.

28 Ippodo Gallery

32 East 67 St (Mad-Park)
10am-6pm

Ippodo Gallery presents selected washi artworks by five Japanese artists working with traditional paper in diverse modes. Transience unveils new perspectives in Japanese paper, transforming the two-dimensional medium into voluminous crafted planes.

GALLERY TALK: 2pm: The Gallery Talk includes a deep dive into the artist's statements, process, and impact on the contemporary Kogei world.

29 Jennifer Baahg
Gallery

790 Madison Ave (66-67)

Gallery

41 East 57 St, 6FI (Mad-Park)
11am-4pm

This year, we will be showing a special selection of works on paper by Picasso under the title "Celebrating Picasso's Legacy." In commemoration of the 50th anniversary of his passing, our selections represent the variety of style and overall breadth his decades-long career encompasses.

31 Kapoor Galleries

34 East 67 St, 3FI (Mad-Park)
11am-3pm

Featuring rare sculptures and paintings from India, Nepal, Tibet, Mongolia, China and the ancient region of Gandhara, "Divine Gestures: Channels of Enlightenment" centers religious iconography in fine-craftsmanship, where tangible and intangible realms of art intersect.

GALLERY TALK: 1pm: We'll explore how iconography across artistic mediums channels and embodies the energies of specific deities. This exhibit is an ode to the iconographic elements of a sculpture that bridge the tangible and intangible realms of art.

32 Kate Oh Gallery

31 East 72 St (Mad-Park)
11am-6pm

Mague Brewer is a tactile painter who achieves the quality of tactility through color value. It is this manipulation of color value that Mague wholeheartedly lays claim to, twisting and mending it along two pursuits: one sharp and realist, the other clouded and abstract.

GALLERY TALK: 12pm, 2pm & 4pm: Mague Brewer will provide a narrative of the works that she is exhibiting and how she has imbued her experiences into them. There will be an opportunity to converse with the artist and ask questions about her art process and inspiration.

33 Kristen Lorello

23 East 73 St, 5F (Mad-Fifth)
11am-6pm

Presenting a solo exhibition of new paintings on plexiglass by Giacinto Occhionero. This is the Rome-based artist's fifth solo exhibition at Kristen Lorello. It develops his particular technique of reverse plexiglass painting and expands his abstract language of repeated circular motifs.

34 LGDR

19 East 64 St (Mad-Fifth)
11am-6pm

Spanning two floors of LGDR's landmark Beaux-Arts-style townhouse, Rear View presents a transhistorical selection of over sixty paintings, sculptures, works on paper, and photographs that explore representation of the human figure as seen from behind—an enduring, wide-ranging paradigm that has exerted potent influence upon modern and contemporary artists.

35 L. Parker
Stephenson Photographs

764 Madison Ave (65-66)
11am-6pm

Over the past nine years, German photographer Jens Knigge has traveled to snow-covered regions, exploring the landscape, our relationship to it. The results are subtle, minimal, yet highly detailed intimately scaled platinum prints. GALLERY TALK: 2pm: Learn more about the works of Jens Knigge.

36 La Maison Valmont
