18 Kraushaar Galleries

15 East 71 St, Ste 2B (Mad-Fifth)
11am-5pm

All Together: A selection of paintings, works on paper and sculptures in which the figure becomes both subject and an invitation. These works ask us not simply to look at their subjects, but to look inward—to consider the ways a gaze can reveal, challenge, or draw us into another person's world.

19 Donald Ryan Gallery

15 East 71 St (Mad-Fifth)
10am-5pm

Noah Jemisin: Fate's Capriciousness. The exhibition brings together a group of paintings and works on paper primarily made during the 1970s and 1980s. Noah Jemisin (b. 1943), born and raised in Birmingham, Alabama, has lived and worked in New York City since 1973. Working across painting, sculpture, and performance, his practice reflects a sustained dialogue with the legacies of postwar American abstraction, the traditions of landscape painting, and the material innovations of assemblage.

20 Sous Les Etoiles Gallery

16 East 71 St (Mad-Fifth)
12pm-5pm

The Thread Between: Sophie Delaporte's Needleworks and her Early Fashion photography are connected by a sustained exploration of femininity, desire, and the representation of women. Both bodies of work reveal Delaporte's enduring desire to reclaim the female image as a space of agency, imagination, and freedom.

21 Arader Galleries

29 East 72 St (Mad-Park)
10am-5pm

Presenting a variety of fine, historic European and American furniture, fine prints, and oil paintings. Also on display are original baseball-related cartoons and other sports-related ephemera.

23 East 73 St (Mad-Fifth)
11am-5pm

Zoe Longfield: A World of One's Own, an exhibition of rarely shown paintings and works on paper from 1948 to 1950. This is the gallery's second solo exhibition of the artist since announcing exclusive representation of the Zoe Longfield Estate.

24 Ludivine

24 East 73 St (Mad-Fifth)
11am-6pm

Curated by Noa Wynn, this intergenerational exhibition spotlights women artists from wide-ranging backgrounds, featuring Zoë Buckman, Abbey Drucker, Iliana Ortega, Gabriela Kramer, Serena Nickson, and Lilah Yektai. Through photography, painting, and mixed media, these artists explore femininity, queerness, nature, heartbreak, sartorial traditions, and the weight of difficult histories – all through a distinctly female gaze. In dialogue with Ludivine's ethos as a female-founded boutique, the exhibition reclaims space for women's stories and artistic practices, celebrating expressions that are self-defined, raw, and unapologetically powerful.

25 D Lan Galleries

25 East 73 St (Mad-Fifth)
11am-6pm

Timothy Cook: Kurluwukari presents new paintings by one of Australia's leading contemporary Tiwi artists. Using natural ochres sourced from his Country, Cook's bold works on linen and stringybark draw upon the Kulama ceremony, celebrating Tiwi culture, Country and continuity.

26 Level & Co.

30 East 74 St (Mad-Park)
11am-5pm

Level & Co. is a full-service art advisory and private gallery specializing in Post-War and Contemporary art, from Abstract Expressionism to Neo-Expressionism to 21st-Century masters. On view: A private installation featuring a world-class collection of Jean-Michel Basquiat paintings, among other important contemporary artists.

37 Leila Heller

22 East 80 St, Lower Level (Mad-Fifth)
10am-6pm

Bringing together large-scale photographic works, immersive moving-images, and hand-cut glass mosaic wall sculptures, the exhibition marks the artists' first solo presentation in New York. Over the past several years, Koopmans and Wexell have travelled across the world reinterpreting abandoned palaces, villas, sites of worship, theatres, and civic buildings.

CURATOR TALKS: Every 20 minutes, from 10am to 4pm: Every 20 minutes, from 10am to 4pm: Ryan Koopmans and Alice Wexell will lead an in-person walkthrough of the exhibition, discussing The Wild Within, their collaborative process, and how photography, digital reconstruction, nature, and motion shape their work.

38 Sprüth Magers

22 East 80 St, 2FI (Mad-Fifth)
10am-5pm

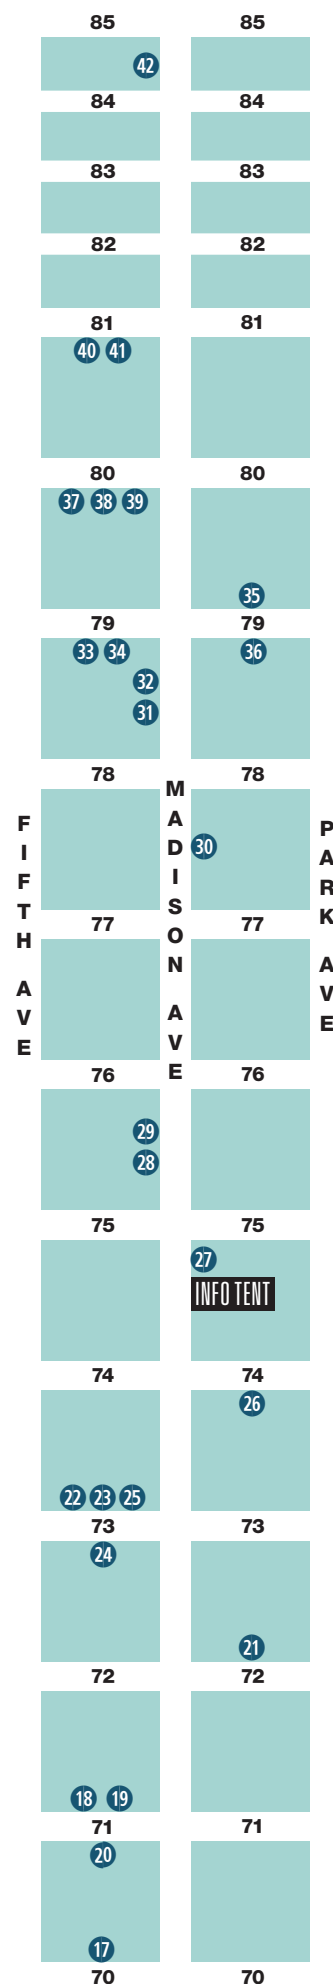

Monika Sprüth and Philomene Magers are pleased to present A well of night, a solo exhibition of new and reimagined works by Thea Djordjadze. Known for sculptural environments that are continually reworked in response to the spaces they inhabit, Djordjadze draws on the logic of architectural space, the formal legacy of modernist design, and the cultural memory of her Georgian roots to produce works that resist easy categorization.

39 Rodder

22 East 80 St, 5FI (Mad-Fifth)
10am-5pm

David Reed: Terrible Idea is the artist's debut exhibition with the gallery. By presenting Reed's working drawings alongside his paintings, Terrible Idea makes visible the process that underlies the artist's practice. The revisions, annotations, and discarded ideas that might otherwise remain unsaid become embedded in the paintings. The exhibition offers an opportunity to consider Reed's work not only as finished objects, but as the materialization of an ongoing consideration of what painting can be.

70th-85th Street
